UN Bolsters Its Forces on Cyprus

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—More Canadian soldiers flew in Tuesday as the van of a U.N. peace force, easing renewed fears that Turkey might create an explosive crisis by landing troops on this angry island.

The guns of the rival Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities remained silent, although the issues that divide them still remain.

In Athens, a Greek government source said that with the buildup of the U.N. peace force, there was no cause for immediate concern.

He was referring to the fact that Turkey's Parliament on Monday gave Premier Ismet Inonu full powers to take action in the Cyprus crisis. The action came at a time when tension over Cyprus began easing in capitals of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Indicative of the mood in Athens was the fact that a three-day NATO naval exercise involving Greek and Turkish warships along with British American, French, Italian and West German units ended Monday with almost no comment in the Greek press.

During the series of anti-American demonstrations over Cyprus that flared in Greece earlier this month, a scheduled visit to Athens by units of the U.S. 6th Fleet was canceled.

60 Years Ago News Was Pretty Much the Same, Times Cornerstone Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — They opened the box which had been sealed in the cornerstone of the old Times Tower in Times Square Tuesday, and read all 12 New York newspapers dated Jan. 18, 1904.

The papers reported trouble in the Far East and Panama. Commuters on the Erie Railroad complained of congestion. Broadway box-office practices were under fire. Brooklyn police were chasing the Mafia. There were bloody uprisings in Africa, and editorials told of the dangers of cigarettes.

The box was opened because the Times Tower is being reconstructed as the Allied Chemical Corp. Tower.

Of the 12 newspapers only two are still published under the same names — the Times and the Morning Telegraph.

The Morning Telegraph is now a racing paper.

Employees of L.R. Schools May Strike

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A union official said Tuesday that employees of the Little Rock School District may go on strike if the school board refused to recognize a local as their bargaining agent.

Earl F. Yeargan said a majority of the 400 cafeteria and custodial employees had signed to join Local 200 of the Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Employees Union.

The board is to study the question Tuesday.

Yeargan said the employees voted Sunday to strike if the local is not recognized.

Pre-Easter Meeting at Presbyterian

The annual Pre-Easter Meeting, sponsored by the elders and deacons of the church, will begin Sunday at the Presbyterian Church with Services, at 10:55 a.m. and 5 p.m. Services will be held each night next week from Monday through Friday at 7:30 p.m. The theme for the week will be: "Nearer, Still Nearer."

The choir under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Gosnell will lead in the musical parts of these Services.

The nursery with an attendant in charge will be open during all of these Services. Infants and younger children will be cared for there.

On Thursday evening the annual Candlelight Communion Service will be held. This has been in past years a deeply moving and inspiring Service as the Sanctuary is illuminated with candles and in the soft light the communion emblems are distributed to the members of the congregation. The entire Service is carried on from memory. Only the organist will use a hymnbook. All the hymns will be sung from memory and Scripture passages will be quoted by the members of the congregation and the Communion meditation will be given without the use of any notes by the minister.

A cordial invitation is extended by the elders and deacons and members of the church to everyone to attend these Services.

U.S. Renews Demand for Its Flyers

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States made a new demand today for the release of three American fliers shot down in East Germany and warned that their continued detention jeopardizes U.S.-Soviet relations.

Charge d'Affaires Walter J. Stoessel presented the demand at the Soviet Foreign Office, coupling it with a denial of Soviet charges that the three men were on an espionage mission when their reconnaissance bomber was shot down on March 10.

An embassy spokesman said Stoessel also warned the Russians that "further delay in release and return of the crewmen clearly jeopardized possibilities for expanding areas of U.S.-Soviet cooperation and can affect present efforts in cooperation in various fields."

2 Get Life for Killing Policeman

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Two of three young men accused of killing a Malden policeman have been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Louis Ladetto, 17, of Cambridge, and Lawrence Guerra, 25 of Watertown, changed their pleas of innocent of first degree murder.

The third defendant, Peter Ladetto, 25, brother of Louis, remained on trial in a Middlesex County Superior Court.

Max Conrad Rescued in Plane Crash

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Max Conrad, America's flying grandfather, is reported in "fine shape" after being rescued from the Greenland icecap where he crashlanded a single-engine plane.

It was the 62-year-old pilot's first crash in nearly 14 years of cross-crossing oceans delivering single-engine planes to customers.

By his reckoning, he was making his 100th transatlantic solo flight Tuesday. Apparently trouble with the Italian Procear Picchio F15 he was ferrying from Italy to Canada forced him down on the barren icecap in subzero weather.

The flier was less than five hours out of Reykjavik, Iceland, when he came down on terrain he described in a magazine article 12 years ago as "mountains, ice, rocks, no iron, no coal, no trees, nothing that man could use."

Luck was with him. He was on the ice only a short time before an Icelandic airliner spotted him. Another plane dropped warm clothing and food.

An Air Force spokesman in Washington said Conrad walked across a glacier from the wreck-age of his plane to the spot where a small fishing boat took him off the icecap. He was transferred to a Danish amphibious plane and flown to a U.S. air base in southern Greenland. He was to be flown today to the Air Force base at Goose Bay, Labrador.

It was Conrad's first serious accident in 35 years. The last one, in October 1929, happened on the ground. A woman passenger alighted from his plane walked into the propeller and was killed. Conrad tried to rescue her and the still-spinning blade fractured his skull. The injury blanked out his memory for three years; and he had to learn to talk again.

Conrad who lives in Winona, Minn., has crossed the oceans so many times that he remarked last year that he was getting bored with the ferrying job.

In 1961, he and his son Terry, 17, set a record for small planes by flying around the world in 8 days and 18 hours.

No Halt to Meat Import, West Angry

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caught in the squeeze of international trade negotiations, the Johnson administration may be stockpiling some election troubles by resisting legislation to cut meat imports.

Republicans contend that the Western prairies are on fire with protests of cattle and sheep raisers. Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., contends some cattlemen are "going broke" because of boosted imports of beef, veal and mutton under voluntary agreements with Australia and New Zealand.

That there is Democratic concern over the matter was demonstrated by the action of Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in proposing quotas which would limit such imports to the average of 1959-63 base period. Mansfield is seeking re-election in November.

Hruska and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman got into a shouting match about the matter in a hearing Tuesday before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

Freeman testified that he is opposed to any legislation to place quotas on meat imports. He said the United States should wait to see if voluntary agreements with Australia and New Zealand don't strengthen domestic meat prices.

The secretary contended that only 15 per cent of the decline in prices paid to cattle raisers was caused by imports. He said 85 per cent could be attributed to an increase in domestic production. He promised to review the situation again next year.

Hruska said the cattlemen can't wait.

"The patience of those people directly involved, who will be broke and bankrupt, will run out and they will say, 'You have to legislate,'" he declared. Freeman broke in to say that

A $4.3 million issue will be voted on May 12 and a $1.3 million issue will be on the ballot April 28.

The small issue, under Act 9, would finance construction of a terminal for Strickland Transportation Co.

Rain Due in State Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain showers may mar an otherwise ideal Arkansas weather picture Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said cooler weather today would continue through Thursday when about a quarter inch of rain can be expected.

Low temperatures today were generally in the 40s, but ranged from a chilly 28 at Gilbert to a warm 50 at Texarkana.

Maximum readings Tuesday were mostly in the 70s. The Weather Bureau predicted low readings tonight from the upper 30s north to mid 40s south.

Arkansas Woman Is Strangled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coroner Henry Turkel ruled Tuesday that Mrs. Martha W. Coates, 24, a native of Helena, Ark., was murdered by strangulation.

Mrs. Coates was found dead Monday in the bathtub of her San Francisco home. She and her husband were expecting their first baby in about three months. Tuesday was their second wedding anniversary.

Her husband, David, 26, formerly of Little Rock, said he found the body when he came home from his office. He is a stock broker.

Turkel said there had been no arrests in the case.

Mrs. Coates was found nude with a nylon stocking around her neck. The stocking had been tied to a necktie, which had been wrapped around a soap rack.

Turkel said there was indications she had put up a struggle. Numerous bruises were on her body.

"It was made to simulate a hanging, but could not possibly have been accomplished by the deceased," Turkel said.

Police questioned her husband and said his statements checked out.

Mrs. Coates was the daughter of J. J. White, president of the Helena National Bank. Coates is the son of James Coates, U.S. Commissioner at Little Rock.

The couple married March 17, 1962, in Carmer, Calif., where Coates was serving as a first lieutenant in the Army. They first met while students at the University of Arkansas.

Wildlife Is Kiwanis Club Meet Topic

George M. Purvis of Little Rock was guest speaker before Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday in observance of National Wildlife Week.

Mr. Purvis is chief of the information and education division of the Arkansas State Game & Fish Commission, and after a brief talk before the club, he presented an interesting action film of Arkansas wildlife, and of the state's streams, lakes and rivers.

Operation of the three state-owned fish hatcheries, the largest one located at Lonoke, and embracing 274 acres, was shown. The three hatcheries produce about five million fish annually, much of which goes to replenish fish taken from streams and lakes over Arkansas.

Andy Caldwell arranged the program. Guests were Dale Bonds of Blevins and Bob Meyers of Hope.

New Office Favored for Registration

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday that he favored, on an optional basis, the creation of a separate office to handle voted registration.

Faubus said it is too late to get such a provision into a bill to be considered at the special legislative session, which begins Tuesday.

But the governor said the bill could be amended in 1965 to allow counties which want to pay for a separate office to do so.

Miller County has expressed a desire for a separate office.

A recent Associated Press poll showed the potential vote divided on whether to give the registration job to clerks, assessors or sheriffs-collectors.

Faubus said Tuesday that legislators he has talked with indicate the fight has narrowed to the assessors and sheriffs-collectors.

Jets Collide; 1 Man Safe, 1 Is Missing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Two Navy jets collided Tuesday night about 15 miles west of La Jolla and went down in a ball of flames, the Coast Guard reported.

One pilot was rescued minutes after the crash. A search is being conducted for the other.

Rescued was Lt. Spencer J. Thomas, 31, of San Diego. Missing is Lt. (j.g.) Ernest M. Colvin III, 26, of Washington D. C.

Both were attached to the Miramar Naval Air Station. The Coast Guard said they were headed out to sea on a routine training flight when they collided. Colvin was a wingman to Thomas on the flight.

Thomas said he was flying at about 5,000 feet when he felt a jolt and heard a thud. "The next thing I knew the plane was on fire—so I ejected."

Hundreds of persons reported seeing an enormous fireball over the ocean.

Lt. John Hancock, pilot of the helicopter that rescued Thomas, was on a training flight in the vicinity, and was at the scene within 4 minutes.

UN Policy on Cyprus Independent

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant says the "terms of reference" of the U.N. Cyprus force are no problem. He alone will issue directives and he won't negotiate them with any government.

A spokesman said Tuesday night Thant has already sent the commander of the U.N. peace force a set of principles for the force assembling on the Mediterranean island.

Diplomatic sources said Thant decreed that the force:

—Should not interfere in the internal affairs of Cyprus.

—Should not use its arms to disarm Greek or Turkish Cypriots.

—Should only fire in self-defense.

—Should cooperate with but remain independent of the U.N. mediator who is to try to work out a political settlement between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Thant's spokesman said the secretary-general had reserved the right to issue directives personally because of "the purely international character and responsibilities of the force."

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys told the House of Commons Monday that talks were going on between Thant and the countries concerned to set up "clear and effective terms of reference which will enable the force to discharge its task."

Sandys seemed to indicate that until the limits of the force's powers and its mission were agreed on, Britain would not contribute troops.

Thant told the Security Council in a written report, however, that he expected to conclude arrangements with Britain for the United Nations to take over some of the British forces who have been trying to enforce a cease-fire in Cyprus since the Christmas holidays.

Thant hopes to build up a 7,000-man force by absorbing half of the 7,000 British troops policing the island and replacing the rest with soldiers from half a dozen other nations. He has pledged of 1,150 from Canada, 700 from Finland, 700 from Sweden and 500 from Ireland.

Cuban Girl Gets Away as a Man

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A pretty refugee said today she fled Cuba by stowing away on a cargo ship dressed as a man.

The petite brunette, Nelida Del Pilar Fernandez, 21, said she was aboard the Lebanese vessel Toula, carrying Greek crewmen, when it left Havana last November.

In British Honduras, she was discovered, the stowaway said, but was permitted to continue after the ship's captain paid a fine for her. She said she left the ship in Jamaica and was there three months.

She was one of 41 refugees arriving in Miami Tuesday.

1st Move in Poverty War Is Training

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The first move to alleviate poverty under the administration's plan is to train those teen-agers who are least likely to fit into today's or tomorrow's economy. The program would aid 100,000 of them.

But there are millions of others of all ages who come under the administration's rule of thumb—a family with less than $3,000 a year income is poor. And drives to better their condition, and incomes, will be harder.

The $962.5 million President Johnson is asking of Congress to start his program is admittedly only a beginning. How much of a dent it will make is unknown. And how big the program could grow in future years is also unknown.

The causes of poverty are many. Sometimes it's sudden like the loss of a job because a lifetime of practicing a once-wanted skill is outmoded. Sometimes it's a change in direction of government spending — a number of communities where defense contracts have been canceled know about that, and others fear it may be around the corner. Often it's lack of schooling that would fit the person to learn skills now in vogue in the labor market.

But the nation's poor contain many other classifications.

Farming techniques have advanced to the point that more than a million marginal farmers have been left behind. They have cash incomes of less than $3,000 a year, often much less. In many cases they are concentrated in depressed regions, but some are found even in the prosperous areas where farms are larger and mechanized.

More than a million nonfarm, nonwhite families headed by men under 65 are poor by the $3,000-a-year standard. Much of the blame is charged to poor schooling, or hiring discrimination.

Even more families headed by women under 65 are in the poverty classification. The heads are widows, divorcees, deserted or unwed mothers. They must provide for their children while often handicapped by lack of skills or experience. And some of these also charge discrimination in hiring.

More than two million Americans over 65 classify as poor under the rule of thumb. A third have only Social Security and other pension income. For many who do have some savings, these are small because their best earning years were during the depression, or in the early postwar years when pay was smaller than today.

The President's program, while concentrating on the teen-agers, urges expansion of existing programs aimed at helping others and federal aid to local programs, and loans and grants to some farmers, workers long out of work, and small businesses. This would continue and expand long-time drives on the problem of poverty.

The nation has made considerable strides since 1929. Then half of its families had incomes under $3,000 a year. By 1947 this had dropped to 30 per cent, and today is put at 20 per cent. The big gain in those years was made by families in the middle-income brackets.

All such figures are clouded to some extent by the inflation that makes a $3,000 a year income buy much less today than in 1929. They also are complicated by rising standards of living which include many conveniences and services now considered necessities that were unheard of in those days.

DeGaulle Courts the Mexicans

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle continues his drive to increase French influence in the Western Hemisphere with an address today before a joint session of the Mexican Congress.

The French president's schedule included a second round conference with his host, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

De Gaulle scored a personal triumph on his arrival Monday with a speech in excellent Spanish, delivered from the presidential balcony of the National Palace to 300,000 persons pecking the plaza.

Both De Gaulle and Lopez Mateos talked of alliance between their countries. Both stressed that alliance would hurt no one. This apparently was intended to quit U.S. uneasiness about De Gaulle's aims on his visit to Mexico and his projected tour of Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina and Peru in September.

"No doctrine, no quarrel, no divergent interest separate us," De Gaulle said. "Quite to the contrary, we have many reasons that urge us to draw closer to each other."

Lopez Mateos said it was the greatest moment in the history of French-Mexican relations.

He said French culture and spirit had influenced Mexico and the French Revolution of 1789 gave Mexico encouragement in its own struggle.

Turk Forces Gathering for Cyprus

the Nebraska Republican, who is seeking re-election his year, was making "a campaign speech."

"I resent that very much," Hruska fired back. "This is not a political speech. That is the feeling of the people of the Midwest."

Freeman retorted that he knew a political speech when he heard one because "I make enough of them."

Unmentioned in this exchange was the fact that the Johnson administration is trying to keep its record clear of quota restrictions when it goes into international negotiations in Geneva in mid-May seeking to get the European Common Market to lower some of its barriers against American farm products.

A measure of success in such endeavors would be calculated to raise the administration's standing among farmers generally. It would not necessarily mitigate the resentment of cattle and sheep raisers at the low prices they still may be receiving in November.

In Ankara, Inonu told reporters his government will use all means at its disposal to protect Turkish Cypriots "within the framework of wisdom, logic and law."

"If the United Nations force insures security and order on the island," he said, "we are not going to interfere. Should, however, these conditions not be met it will be our duty to guarantee the security of the life and property of Turks on the island."

In the east coast Cypriot port of Famagusta, several hundred Greek Cypriot high school pupils paraded with banners saying: "U.N. soldiers, welcome to this green island." "We want to live in peace," and "We ask for peace but the answer is war."

Actually, presence of the Canadians on this eastern Mediterranean island so far can have only a psychological effect. They have not yet gone on duty because their orders have not yet been received from the United Nations.

The Canadians, wearing the blue berets of the U.N. force, have taken over a small section of the sprawling Elizabeth camp where several hundred British paratroopers also are encamped. The camp is four miles from Nicosia.

The Canadians join British troops who have been trying to hold down violence since ancient Greek and Turkish Cypriot rivalries burst out into shootings last Christmas. The Turkish minority objected because Greek Cypriot President Makarios wanted to abolish the veto right the Turkish Cypriots have over legislation.

British forces will be thinned out as soldiers from Sweden, Finland and Ireland arrive to join the U.N. force. Austria has agreed to send a medical unit and mobile field hospital.

WHY SOME MEN CHEAT AND OTHERS ARE FAITHFUL

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

A wife asks what many other women would like to know: What keeps a husband faithful? She writes: "Dear Dr. Brothers: I know some of my friends' husbands wouldn't look at another woman, yet I know of others who repeatedly do. What is the difference, and what causes one man to stray, and another not to?"

One type of man who is unfaithful is the man with inferiority feelings. He strays in search of reassurance that he's attractive.

This sense of inferiority is usually neurotic, so he doesn't stay reassured long. He looks to one woman, then another and another. Still, he isn't confident. Is he really desirable and attractive he asks himself.

A second type is the male who feels sexually inadequate. He is adequate, and incidentally prove to himself that it is his wife that is inadequate.

A third type, is the husband who harbors a deep resentment against his wife. He may not unconsciously want a wife, a home, and responsibility. So, he becomes unfaithful, in effect, punishing his wife as the cause of his unwanted responsibility.

A fourth type has adventures to blame his wife for his own feelings. Unable to love genuinely, he is basically insensitive to his wife's needs. Since he never learned to give, he sees love as taking.

Often their childhood, and their environment conditioned these men to infidelity. Sometimes the process has been started by a mother who was too preoccupied or too busy to show affection for her young son. Sometimes both parents were harsh and cold. Because of it, the man as a boy failed to mature emotionally or acquire a capacity for love. His mother gave him scant affection, so his ability to love remained undeveloped, a childish emotion. It is still demanding, selfish, and insecure.

Later, when these men receive real love from a wife, they can't convince themselves it's sincere. After all, their mother's wasn't.

What are the factors that induce a man to be faithful? Psychiatrists believe that outside pressures—social, economic, and legal—account for only 20 per cent of what restrains men from infidelity, and that 80 per cent comes from within the man, himself.

Men that philander in marriage suffer from a lack of fusion between sex and love. And only within the past few decades have many men and women begun to join the two. The result is a new pattern of marriage, a joining together of two people of equal status, bound by love and common interests.

In the new relationship, sex is enmeshed in the entire love experience of affection and life-long companionship. And when sex is completely fused with love, it cannot be practiced outside of marriage. That is, not without disturbing the personality of the unfaithful partner and his relationship with his wife.

Psychiatrist Dr. Henry Sullivan finds that love exists when satisfaction, or the security of another person becomes as significant as one's own satisfaction or security. If marriage involves love of this kind, the basic force that makes a man faithful becomes clear. His wife is the dearest part of himself, and he cannot endure to hurt that part.

A Note On The Intimidating Saleswoman

Women don't just slip out of the house and go downtown to shop. They get dressed to go shopping when they go outside their immediate neighborhood. They try to look attractive not for a man, but for a saleswoman. The first thing many women feel when they enter a store is that they must sell the saleswomen on themselves.

Two - thirds of the women queried in a Michigan survey believed that the saleswomen's opinion of their clothes and social status helped determine whether they got good service. Two out of five felt the clerks preferred to wait on well-dressed customers to poorly dressed ones.

Probably most salesgirl do not really care who or what you are. What seems like intimidation is just an expression of fatigue or boredom. Mostly their interest is in the commission if they work on one. And if you're dressed well the chances are you'll spend more money. For the salesgirl the ideal customer is one who is patient, not fussy, and spends a great deal of money.

Half-Hour Shows Top CBS Bill

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System after weeks of planning and revisions of plans, has formally announced its fall schedule. It includes 13 new programs and 11 time-changes for returning shows.

If CBS is a trend leader, next fall's schedules on all networks should be a barrel of fun: eight of the 13 new shows are comedies, and all are half-hour shows.

New programs include "Living Doll," a comedy with Julie Newmar playing a beautiful robot, and "Bill and Martha," with William Bendix and Martha Raye, another comedy. These will fill the Sunday night hour opposite NBC's "Bonanza" one of the toughest competitive spots in television.

Other comedy shows are "Many Happy Returns" on Monday night, about a man who works in the complaint department of a store; "The Cara Williams Show" on Wednesday, a husband-wife series; "The Munsters" on Thursday, a series about a family that look like Frankenstein monsters, with Fred Gwynne and Al Lewis; "The Baileys of Balboa," also on Thursday, with Paul Ford playing a marina owner in a yachting community; "Gomer Pyle" on Fridays, with Jim Na-bars, in spin-off from the Andy Griffith show, playing a Marine recruit, and "Gilligan's Island" on Saturday, about a group of shipwrecked people.

There will be three new dramatic series. "Slattery's People" on Monday evening is the story of the minority leader of a state legislature. "Yours Truly, Danny Taylor" on Friday nights is a newspaper tale. "Mr. Broadway" on Saturday nights, with Craig Stevens, is an action-adventure series about a press agent who does amateur detective work.

The one new variety show will be "The Entertainers" with Carol Burnett and Bob Newhart among the stars, on Friday nights. A documentary series, "World War I," will be seen on Tuesday nights.

"The Nurses" will be moved to a Tuesday night spot; "The Defenders" to Thursday evenings; "Password" to Thursday nights, and "Rawhide" to Fridays. A number of others will have new times.

Pakistan and Red China in Rumored Link

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian government has learned that Communist China and Pakistan have agreed to coordinate foreign and military policies affecting India, a high government official said today.

The official, who declined to be quoted by name, said in an interview that India is revamping its policy on the assumption that in the future it will face two hostile neighbors working together rather than separately.

This indicated that the Indian government is discounting the possibility of making a separate diplomatic deal with either Pakistan or Communist China to relieve the pressure on at least part of its northern border.

Premier Chou En-lai of Red China visited Pakistan last month and won a pledge of close cooperation from President Mohammad Ayub Khan, but there was no public mention of any military or diplomatic collaboration.

Reports of skirmishes on the India - Pakistan border are reaching New Delhi in increasing numbers.

The Indian official said his government considers these skirmishes potentially dangerous but does not think an escalation into a greater conflict is threatened.

On the Chinese frontier, he said, there is no indication the Communists will try anything big in the near future. Red troops, however, are consolidating positions they won in the 1962 border war.

India regards the China-Pakistan collaboration as so close that it believes the Communists are virtually certain to push road from Chinese territory deep into Pakistan, perhaps to the capital of Rawalpindi, the official said. Such a road has been rumored in Pakistan.

"The Chinese are now 'in' in Pakistan, and the two will be moving together from now on," he said.

Unblemished Record Is No Handicap

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — UCLA won't be bothered by the pressure of an unbeaten season in the final rounds of the NCAA basketball championship.

"We feel we're starting a new season," Bruin Coach John Wooden said.

"Our kids were pressing to complete the regular season undefeated. They made it. And that took the pressure off. Now we feel we're starting all over again."

"If we get beat, it won't be because of that kind of pressure. It'll just be because we played a better team."

The top-ranked Bruins take a 28-0 record into Friday night's semifinal match with Kansas State, the Big Eight champ with a 22-5 mark. Michigan, 22-1, plays Duke, 25-1, in the other semifinal.

UCLA beat Kansas State and Michigan romped over Duke in regular season play, but all four coaches, speaking over a four-way telephone hookup Tuesday, agreed those December results could be discounted.

"It was obvious when we played Kansas State that they were experimenting, looking for the right combination. Apparently they found it. They've come a long way since then," Wooden said.

Michigan's Dave Strack, whose Wolverines bombed Duke 83-67, said his team isn't taking the Blue Devils lightly.

"We're not looking past them," Strack said. "No sir. We're not looking forward to Friday night. We're going in with respect for everyone and fear of no one."

Duke's Vic Bubas said his team had matured since the loss to Michigan.

"We think more aggressively, play more aggressively now," he said. "We are a more confident team now. Our scoring balance is better and we're a little better off defensively."

Tex Winter of Kansas State said his team is now "as good as any team that's going to be there."

"UCLA is very difficult to play against. When they beat us, we just weren't real well prepared to handle the kind of problems UCLA presents. We're a little better prepared now."

The teams took their final workouts on home courts today. All are scheduled to arrive in Kansas City Thursday and will have brief workouts at the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium, site of the Friday night semifinals and Saturday finals.

None has ever won the championship.

White Sox Rookie Luck Still Holds

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox' fabulous luck in striking big league gold with raw rookies seemed holding firm today in the person of second baseman Don Buford.

Buford, the International League's most valuable player at Indianapolis last season, is making the most of his chance to replace Nellie Fox, traded to the Houston Colts.

Buford's fielding has been faultless in the Pale Hose' first three exhibition games. He leads the club in hitting with 385 with five hits in 13 trips.

A third baseman last year at Indianapolis, Buford has worked hard in camp on the pivoting and off-balance throwing to first base required of a good second baseman.

Sox shortstop Ron Hansen said of Buford:

"I think he has looked very good making the pivot. He takes my throw real well. He keeps asking questions about hitters and he is quick to accept advice where to play each hitter."

As a 27-year-old rookie, Buford is in the same position to match such other White Sox "finds" as Chico Carrasquel, Luis Aparicio, Fox and last year's great first-year tandem of third baseman Pete Ward and pitcher Gary Peters.

Carrasquel stepped in overnight to replace Luke Appling. When Carrasquel faded, Aparicio moved in as a shortstop.

Fox, a kid recruit obtained from the Philadelphia A's, suddenly became the backbone of the Sox.

Last season Peters won American League Rookie of the Year honors with a 19-8 record. Ward, "sleeper" in a big trade last year with the Baltimore Orioles, was runner-up to Peters for league rookie of 1963 laurels as he batted .295.

Curt Flood Looks Back on 200 Hits

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Curt Flood, at 26 the ranking member of the St. Louis outfield, sat on a tractor behind the Cardinals' batting cage, minimizing his achievements and the problems involved in working with new running mates.

"What I did last season was what I had to do," he said. "You have to get 200 hits to break even on this club."

No matter how Flood minimizes the achievement, he still was only one of five National Leaguers to reach the 200-hit level last season. He also hit .302 and drove in 63 runs — a remarkable figure for a leadoff batter.

"I can't really say whether 1962 or 1963 was my best season," said Flood, "but I would say last year was my best as far as fitting in was concerned. But then everything has to be measured by how we finished — and unfortunately we were a day late and a dollar short."

Flood's major league career is six years old. He has established himself as a graceful, wide-ranging center fielder, and with Stan Musial retired, is the lone fixture in the Cardinal outfield. His outfield partners likely will come from among Charlie James, Carl Warwick, Doug Clemens or Mike Shannon.

"There's not going to be any problem with any of them meshing with Flood," said Manager Johnny Keane. "He covers a lot of ground. And there's not going to be any extra pressure on Curt because he's playing with these guys. If there's any pressure it might be on the young player playing alongside him."

Flood came to St. Louis in 1957 from Cincinnati in a trade for pitchers Willard Schmidt, Marty Kutyna and Ted Wieden. Always an exceptional fielder, he began to produce at the plate in 1961 when he hit .322, then followed that with .296 in 1962 and last year with his first 200-hit season.

Black Hawks Play Game of Waiting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks, holding a precarious two-point lead in the National Hockey League as the result of a 4-0 victory over New York Tuesday night, now must play a waiting game.

The Hawks broke out of a tie with idle Montreal and boosted their point total to 82 against 80 for the Canadiens. But the Hawks are in anything but a comfortable position in quest of their first league title.

Chicago plays its final game against Boston Sunday night and a victory would give the Hawks a total of 84 points. Meal, however, has three games to play and a potential of 86 points, if such a margin will be needed since the Hawks, a notoriously poor road team, wind up at Boston.

The Canadiens will get a chance to move into a tie Wednesday night when they

the Kansas City A's.

Rookie Rico Carty also homered for the Braves, who had managed just three runs in two shutout victories before facing the depleted Athletic staff.

The San Francisco Giants bunched four singles for three runs in the sixth inning and then held on for a 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Willie McCovey's three hits led the Giants' attack.

Norm Cash and Willie Horton slugged home runs as the Detroit Tigers dumped Philadelphia's Phillies 8-2. Cash drove in five runs as Detroit evened its Citrus record at 2-2.

Skinny Brown, Larry Yellin and Larry Bohannon allowed just three Baltimore hits as the Houston Colts nipped the Orioles 3-2 in 11 innings. Bohannon's one-out single delivered the winning run for the Colts.

Ted Savage smashed a two-run homer and the Pittsburgh Pirates came up with a run in the bottom of the 10th inning to edge Washington 5-4.

take on Toronto. Montreal is then at home against Boston Saturday and finish the season at New York Sunday.

The Hawks had little trouble against New York with goalie Glenn Hall posting his seventh shutout of the season.

Bobby Hull, the Golden Jet, gave Hall the support he needed with two goals in the first period giving him a league-leading total of 43.

Stan Mikita, the league's leading pointmaker, came up with an unassisted goal—his 39th—in the second period. Mikita boosted his point total of 89 to lead Hull by three.

Red Hay pushed his 22nd goal past Jacques Plante in the final period to round out the scoring before a crowd of 15,214.

One More Shot for the Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks will get one more shot at a piece of the National Basketball Association's Western Division crown.

The Hawks trimmed Detroit 115-99 Tuesday night, cutting San Francisco's Western lead to a game and retaining a mathematical chance to tie the Warriors for the title.

If St. Louis beats Detroit in its season wind-up tonight and Philadelphia upends San Francisco, the Hawks and Warriors will play off for the No. 1 spot.

The war is over for New York's weary Knickerbockers, who closed out another nightmarish season by losing to Boston 127-121. Los Angeles finished its regular season business on a happier note, trimming Philadelphia 121-97 on the West Coast.

St. Louis Coach Harry Gallatin rested his regulars after they'd gunned to a 25-point third quarter lead over Detroit, then had to rush in the starters when the Pistons closed the gap to six late in the game. A couple of hook shots by Cliff Hagan, top St. Louis scorer with 24 points, put an end to the Pistons' bid.

The Celtics, trailing 78-74 midway through the third period, cut loose with 11 straight points and pulled away from the Knicks. Bill Russell and Sam Jones led the breakthrough and finished with 24 and 26 points, respectively.

Los Angeles buried Philadelphia with a 41-point third quarter after being held to a 48-48 intermission tie. Jerry West's 31 points were high for the Lakers. Paul Neuman had 22 for the 76ers.

Russia Resumes Sale of Gold

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union resumed selling gold in West Europe again Tuesday — apparently to raise cash for North American wheat.

Market sources said about $4.5 million worth of Soviet gold was put up for sale, mainly in Paris but reaching London before the market closed.

Objects to Rink — But Ice Melts

CHICAGO (AP) — A suit against a skating rink was dismissed in Circuit Court Tuesday when a judge decided the problem had literally melted away.

Frank P. Lawler sought $5,000 damages and asked the court to close a private skating rink on the grounds the skaters made too much noise and damaged his property.

Judge Cornelius J. Harrington dismissed the case, noting "the unseasonably warm weather has solved the problem by melting the ice."

Sound Price Structure Metal Need

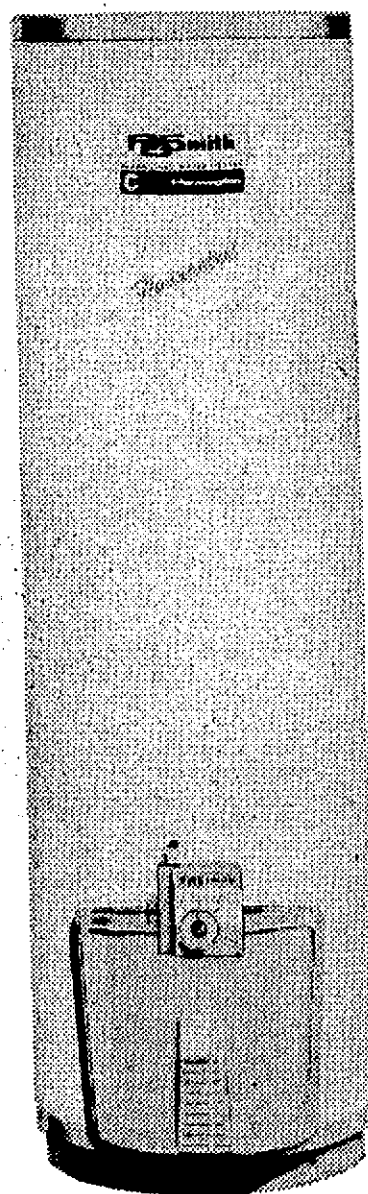

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A more sound price structure is the most pressing need of Aluminum Co. of America, Alcoa officials told stockholders Monday.

Alcoa's two top executives noted in a letter accompanying the annual report that although there had been improvement in the price picture since last summer, "prices in general are lower than in 1962."

The officials are Lawrence Litchfield Jr., chairman, and John D. Harper, president.

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

End of Audit Report.

WHAT IS ABC?

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, Chicago, by its own definition is: "A co-operative association of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers for the verification of circulation of newspaper and periodical members in the United States and Canada."

It is controlled by those who buy advertising (manufacturing, merchandising and service companies, and their agencies) rather than those who sell advertising (newspapers and magazines).

COST OF ADVERTISING

Pick up an invoice for newspaper advertising and you will find that you are billed for so many column-inches at so much per inch. That's how it is billed — but that isn't how it is sold.

The price of an inch of advertising is meaningless unless you know what the paper's circulation is. When you know that you know the cost.

The cost of advertising is the cost per inch per thousand circulation. That's the great yardstick by which advertising is bought and sold from coast to coast. The national advertisers call it "the milline" — the cost per line (1/14th of an inch) per million circulation.

Now you know why ABC audits are important. They verify circulation — the factor which is combined with the publisher's charge per inch to establish the advertising cost yardstick.

IT'S CHEAP TODAY

While prices of other manufactured articles are up 300% the last 35 years the cost of advertising in this newspaper has risen but 72%. The rate per-inch has increased, it is true — but so has paid circulation. Here is the 35-year comparison:

Local "open" rate per inch per thousand	1929	1964
	20c	34.3c

And that's a performance we feel deserves a page advertisement all its own.

Relieved to Be Rid of Lassie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - June Lockhart's dog days are over. After six years as Lassie's mother, she can now take a drink in public.

As it happened, she didn't have a drink when we met for lunch, but it was a comfort for her to know that she could. As long as she was one of the stars of the "Lassie" show, she was restrained from anything that might reflect against the Lassie image.

Such wordage appeared in the contract she signed. But she didn't know how strenuously it would be applied. She found out in her second year with "Lassie" when a television magazine reported that she had taken a drink during an interview.

"It was a half jigger of scotch," she recalled. "Well, you never saw such a fuss when the article appeared. A delegation flew out from the sponsor's headquarters in Camden, N.J. I had to attend a meeting with nine men at which this breach in the image of Lassie's mother was deplored."

After all the oratory, June agreed to avoid any more controversial stand taking coming out against heart disease.

So for the remainder of her contract she curbed her considerable sense of humor and said nothing that would detract from the homespun simplicity of the Lassie family. Then last fall she sensed that her tenure with the lovable collie would not be forever.

The show's bosses had June to lunch and explained that they might be shooting some "departures" in which Lassie would get away from June and the departure had the dog staying with a forest ranger played by Robert Bray.

"I could see the handwriting on the wall," June said, "and it was signed by Smoky the Bear."

At season's end she found herself replaced by a forest ranger.

Was she sorry to leave? "You bet," she admitted. "It was an actor's dream—steady work, excellent pay, a wonder-

Regional Airport Opposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Little Rock Chamber of Commerce board of directors voted Tuesday against establishing a regional airport between Little Rock, Pine Bluff and Hot Springs.

The board voted to maintain Adams Field in Little Rock as the major airport for Central Arkansas.

A subcommittee studying the regional airport proposal reported that Hot Springs and Pine Bluff could be better served by improving highway access to Adams Field and by better scheduling of feeder airline service to connect with trunk carrier flights.

"We feel that replacement of Adams Field by a regional airport, backed by only the vague belief that it might provide full cast and crew, and a chance to do good scenes now and then Yes, I even liked Lassie. It's really a wonderful dog."

greater airport traffic, would be a costly mistake," the committee said.

Runways at Adams Field are long enough for jets, the report showed.

THE WEEPING WIDOW MINE

By Nelson C. Nye

Copyright 1964, Nelson C. Nye

THE STORY: As word leaks out of a big strike in the hills, townspeople go prospecting. But T. K. Jones is already dividing up Charlie Medders' mine and is offering stock in exchange for bills owed by Medders.

XV

Medders tore into the bank like a gust of brimstone, sent Brass Buttons sprawling, but hauled up before Miss Winters' anxious smile.

"Gracious!" she said worriedly, her gentian glance darting up at the clock. "I think you'd better hurry. Mr. Jones held things up as long as he could. . . . Go right on in, Mr. Medders."

It was Mister Medders now, Charlie noted, but was not to be soft-soaped by titles and smiles. He went through the gate and flung open Jones' door. Talk and the smoke of 50-cent cigars swirled around him like a wave as he strode into the crowd packed five deep about Jones' desk.

No one straightaway appeared to notice his presence and from the squabble of voices it was quickly apparent not all of this bunch was waste heartedly happy with the way things were going. The banker's tones cut abruptly through the bickering gabble. "There you are, Mr. Tooper . . . $13.64.

Now, Jones said, clearing his throat and speaking briskly, "if there's nobody else who wants to settle for cash, those who have can depart and the rest of us will get down to the business at hand."

His glance sliding through the disgruntled rumble of those going out, suddenly lit upon Medders and turned narrowly blank. "Well, Charles," he said through the clomping boots and departing mumble, "I see you finally managed to get here," and coldly smiled as he gathered up and began squaring the edges of a considerable batch of papers left on his desk by Medders' politeness.

"Didn't figure," Charlie said, "you could get very far without me."

Jones got the meeting called to order and they all sat down in the chairs Burks fetched in. Ferris and Rawlins lighting up fresh smokes from the box passed around and then T. K. getting up behind his desk, put on his brightest smile. "All of us here know Charlie Medders, Ferris, but you should also nod to Miss Beulah Storm who, about with myself, has been one of Charlie's partners in a real-estate property from which these samples are fairly typical specimens. Mr. Burks will pass them around."

Medders didn't much care for the rediscovered bit but chewed down on his tongue to listen in stony silence to the astonished exclamations that followed the rocks around. Ferris, as Burks took them back to their keeper, peered sharply at Charlie, but kept his notions to himself. Rawlins, concerned for his range, stared glumly at his boots. It was Heintzleman — a mortician who kept among his boxes a cheap sideline of household furnishings — that demanded to be told where the specimens had come from.

"Glad you brought that up, Abe. This is the ore fetched in by those Indians who sent half the town stampeding for the Santa Cruz," Jones grinned at their startled looks and chuckled. "Our associate, Mr. Medders, is a great hand for jokes. There's nothing around that mission, I assure you, that Charles has not deliberately put there. It will buy us, I think, whatever time we'll need to locate the main ore bodies and have them filed in the name of the Company."

The grudging looks of respect sent Charlie's way by these words lifted Medders' hand and thawed much of his antagonism, being the first of the kind he'd ever got from these wallflowers. Then his glance fell on the girl, turning sour as he remembered the purpose of this meeting. It put his back up again, bunched the muscles in his cheeks.

Rawlins, rolling the smoke across his teeth, mumbled, "How much capital will be

Korea Seeking Anti-Sub Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Korea's top naval officer said Tuesday he has asked the United States to provide more antisubmarine warfare equipment to meet a growing submarine threat.

The visiting Korean chief of naval operations, Vice Adm. Lee Maeng-tke, 39, told a news conference the best present estimates are that: (1) North Korea has more than two Soviet-built medium submarines; (2) Communist China has 22 or more and (3) the Soviet Union has more than 100 submarines based at Vladivostok and Dairen.

needed to develop these claims."

"We'll get to that presently. First thing we've got to do is form a company—we'd better have Miss Winters in," Jones said, pressing a buzzer. "Now, with regard to electing a head, unless someone has a better idea I think, inasmuch as this was Charles' discovery, it is certainly just and eminently proper he should be our first President, all in favor so signify by saying 'ay.'"

No sound could be heard. Medders, with his jaw hanging ludicrously open, was completely stounded, so bewilderment filled with the sanctified importance of so signal an honor long unanimously tendered by the room's mightiest magnates.

Congress Fog Engulfs White House

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every year, starting in January, the air clears in Washington. This lasts a few weeks. Then the fog sets in.

When Congress meets in January, the President sends up the usual yearly messages and perhaps a few programs. It still looks like a nice year.

Although members of Congress comment on the messages and programs, what they have to say is predictable. It depends on which side they're on.

This is when the fog begins and slowly spreads as Congress settles down to work. Somehow everything gets complicated and bogged down.

This is one of those times. Southern Democrats in the Senate have begun a civil rights filibuster which may stall all other action or months.

Presidential programs which have to wait till it's over may die from waiting, particularly in a hurry-home election year like this.

This doesn't mean the President has time to coast. While Congress dawdles, he's up to something else. There's enough to keep him busy.

President Johnson, who only two nights ago explained in an interview how hard he works, has seldom being busier than these past two days.

But things can get mixed up at his end of Washington, too. Monday, after his hour-long interview Sunday night, he sent his antipoverty program to Congress and addressed the Organization of American States.

The poverty program, with a $962.5-million price tag, covers a lot of ground and Congress may be too bogged-down to do anything about it.

It's complicated and the civil rights fight stands in the way. Even House Speaker John W. McCormack made no prediction on its chances this year. One Senate Republican leader got very critical.

Sen. Rourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said the program looks like a "political maneuver."

Certainly it was not poor politics on Johnson's part of offering it in this election year when there are millions of poverty-stricken people.

But because there are, the Republicans will have to think twice before they fight it or knock it, if they have such a thing in mind.

Politically — if the program gets shoved aside on the excuse there is too much else to do — nobody loses anything but poor people.

This wasn't all Johnson and Hickenlooper got involved in.

Last Jan. 10 Panama broke diplomatic relations with the United States after riots at the Panama Canal Zone left 21 dead more than 200 injured.

Since then the other Latin-American countries, through the OAS, have been trying to get the United States and Panama to agree to talk of settlement.

Panama wants to renegotiate the 1903 treaty under which the United States can control the Canal Zone indefinitely.

Sunday night the OAS announced the United States and Panama had agreed to discuss and negotiate their differences.

To some Americans "discuss" is all right but not "negotiate." They take it to mean that the United States has agreed before here is any discussion that it is willing to change the treaty.

A few hours after the OAS announcement Hickenlooper said it sounded like an American surrender to him.

That's an idea Republicans might use in this year's campaign. A few hours after the Hickenlooper comment a high U.S. source spoke up.

He said there had been no meeting of the minds, although the OAS had said there was. This upset the Latin Americans no end. But this wasn't all.

Johnson had a prepared speech to deliver to the OAS but while delivering it he suddenly started talking about Panama. That wasn't in the speech.

He echoed that high source of the night before and said there had been no meeting of minds with Panama.

Loan Given for Camden Port

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — The Area Redevelopment Administration has approved a $460,000 loan to build and equip a port in Camden, officials said Monday.

The port will create 125 new jobs and allow several firms in Camden's industrial district to expand. The money will be used to extend dock facilities on the Ouachita River and to build a river terminal warehouse.

California GOPs Favor Goldwater

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater carried the strife-torn endorsement of the 14,000-member California Republican Assembly into the state's primary campaign today.

Conservatives topped off their Goldwater victory by capturing control of the volunteer party organization in a free swinging contest with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's forces.

Climaxing a stormy 12-hour Sunday session, the outnumbered Rockefeller delegates staged a walkout before the vote committing the CRA to support the Arizona senator in his California race against the New York governor.

The Rockefeller faction battled to prevent any endorsement but there was never any doubt about the outcome. All the Rockefeller backers could do was fight a long delaying action that turned the convention into a parliamentary nightmare.

Goldwater swept the endorsement by a lopsided margin on a standing vote with only two dozen or so Rockefeller members still around to register their protest.

All the pent-up rancor in Republican ranks burst out in the well-planned maneuver by the conservatives to take over the party's statewide club movement. The Young Republicans Federation fell to them last year.

Goldwater spokesmen accused the Rockefeller camp of trying to tarnish the senator's endorsement by deliberately creat-
